Aesthetic Lights

These C. 1875 recreated lights are just so lovely having been made by the lost wax casting method. This is the same method the finest cast gold jewelry is made.

872-TRR-ES Wonderful Aesthetic two light sconce. Overall: 26" wide by 16" tall and projecting a full 16" as well. Backplate is 4 1/2" in diameter. 4" rare crown fitters. Just Lovely 873-TRR-CH and 976-HRR-CH As these lights come, they are 62" tall but they can be shortened anywhere you like between 62" and 32". Spread with shades: 32 1/2". 4" crown fitters for shades.

The lights, in this series, are shown with our 0175G shade. We created the only properly made crown shade made in the world today. Wonderfully hand blown, etched and hand cut like the antiques. It stands 5" tall and 8 1/2" at the widest. It fits into a 4" fitter.

We are proud to sell authentic American Lights & to share their history via our resident historian

This series of Art Deco lights was made by Lincoln Mnf. Co. of Detroit, Mich, Circa 1935, (which is a key year in the height of the slip shade lighting era).

Lincoln named this series of lights "The Fleurette Group". Every light and shade here has been molded from an original Art Deco antique. Choice of frosted or amber shades as originals. Lost Wax Cast, solid brass-no junk metal 82-LAX-ES Nice sconce show here with choice of amber or frosted shades just like the originals. Even has an off/on switch.

12 1/2" tall; 5 5/8" wide; Projects: 4 3/8". Mounts with one screw concealed behind shade. Medium base socket rated to 100 watts, but, a snug fit. Suggest a 60 watt candle bulb
